U.S.O. Activity Ends, But Attempt Made to Get Elks Lodge to Take Over

The drive for funds and all other activities were ended this week by the United Service organization in Lake county because of the national order closing all USO places for lack of funds.

An effort is being made to have the Elks lodge take over the Waukegan USO on Sheridan rd., which is now the property of the city. The Community chest fund still has money with which to operate the place.

There were several farewell events before the closing Tuesday. Antioch women have aided much in carrying on the programs and supplying entertainment for the service men away from home.

On Sunday, Jan. 22 the Snea lodge No. 5, Ladies of the Viking served at the coffee hour. Those serving were Miss Anna Johnson, chairman, Mesdames Paul Johnson, Eric R. Carlson, Carl Lindgren, Earl Swanson, Fred Wickstrom and Paul Hendrickson.

At 5:30 p. m. Sunday Miss Dorothy Ogrin, Reva Holt, Ada Jean Hill, Sylvia Hofflander, Joan Reckendorf, Lorraine Lange, and Bonito Tiss, all of who were Girls of the Month at the USO during 1949 were honored at a dinner at the Officer's Club.

Anthony J. Scully, local chairman of the planned USO drive, said that since the U. S. O. centers are closed no solicitation will take place and no one is authorized to gather funds at this time.

He said the thought and action behind this great movement to provide comfort for millions in the service of the country will not soon be forgotten and he is appreciative of the help that was promised him.

Antioch Wins Second Game from Grant High, Plays Bensenville Next

Back into a winning streak after successive victories over Grant and Wauconda, Antioch Township High school hopes to break into the first division standing of the Northwest conference with a victory over Bensenville there tomorrow evening.

The Sequoits beat Grant for the second time this year, taking the long end of a 47-32 score before an Antioch crowd Friday evening. The home boys were consistently three to four points better in each quarter of the game.

The first quarter ended 11 to 9, the half 22-18, the third quarter 34-24 and the final score 47-32. Buchta was high scorer with 15 points and T. Haviland next with 10 points.

The Papooses beat the Grant Puppies 26 to 24. The Antioch boys were ahead 24 to 16 at the end of the third quarter but in the final quarter missed all of their free throws and scored but one field goal. Unaccustomed to victories it appeared as though they were trying to avoid one.

Lubkeman scored 17 of the 26 points for Antioch.

Son Of Thomas Kelly Named Executive Head Of New Chicago Fair

Crosby Kelly, Chicago, son of Thomas C. Kelly, of Hinsdale, Ill., formerly of Antioch, has been named executive manager of the 1950 Chicago Lake Front fair which is expected to open on the site of the Railroad fair in June.

Kelly, one-time Ford mechanic and foreman, promoted the New York show for the Ford company. This important position came to him unsought.

The new executive told newspaper men that action displays such as the one he is planning will replace the old museum type of exhibit. The fair will be national in character and will be open 75 days. There will be from 10 to 50 large commercial displays and a pageant.

Crosby's grandfather was a leading contractor in Antioch and built the first hotel in all the lake region. It was the Kines hotel on Fox lake built in the early sixties or seventies. The grandson has visited in Antioch many times.

Boys Borrow Mayor's Team For Gallop Over Icy Field

Mayor James McMillen enlisted the aid of sheriff's deputies the fore part of this week in corralling three boys who borrowed his team for a gallop across an ice coated stubble field on his Antioch farm.

The horses were in pasture when the youngsters mounted them and took off across the field. McMillen feared the horses would slip and fall.

The boys soon tired of the sport, dismounted and left, but the deputies rounded them up, gave them a lecture and turned them over to their parents for discipline.

New Business Equalled Loans Paid off, N. F. L. A. Reports at 31st Meeting

Paul Allanson, Mundelein, and Louis Borchart, Huntley, were re-elected directors to serve three years at the 31st Annual Meeting of the National Farm Loan Association of Woodstock. The meeting was held in the opera house in Woodstock Wednesday night, Jan. 18. Although the thermometer hovered around zero, about 200 members and friends of the association braved the cold to attend.

Ralph L. Ostrander, Sect.-Treas. of the Association in his report stated that this was the first time in several years that the new business written had equalled the loans paid off in full. The printed report showed a loss of 4 members but a gain of $19,100. He stated that the over all outstanding balance as of Dec. 31 was $1,256,979.07 which was $34,000, less than the previous year. This amount is spread among 237 members of the association. He also referred to the value of the membership stock in the Ass'n., which is now $1.77 on the dollar as compared to $1.13 on the Woodstock Lake and $4.46 on the McHenry Co. stocks on Dec. 31, 1944. The two associations have merged in the meantime. The present reserves are 77% of the outstanding stock.

Firemen Aid Bristol

The Antioch fire department was called to assist the Bristol, Wis., department at a fire on Hwy. V, east of Rte. 45 Wednesday evening.

March of Dimes Fund Will Reach $1,500 in Township, Gresens Says

Total $1,312.56 With Lung Containers Not Yet Counted Up

Antioch township will exceed its quota of $1,500 in the March of Dimes drive, Ed Gresens, chairman, said today.

With the contents of 100 "iron-lung" receptacles yet to be counted, the contributions thus far have totaled $1,312.56. Money sent to the county headquarters from the township may swell the total.

Figures released by Chairman Gresens yesterday showed that $110.61 was obtained from the collections at the Antioch and Lakes theatres.

The Antioch Grade school, Grass Lake school, Antioch High school, St. Peter's parochial school, Channel Lake, Emmons, Hickory, Oakland and Newport schools have a combined total of $207.70.

Churches societies, clubs, lodges, business houses, and residents of Antioch township accounted for $950.

The skating party sponsored by Warren and Richard Wells, and Robert January at the Zion rink was a success and the profit for the fund amounted to $43.50.

Chairman Gresens said the workers have called him in offering further services to aid the worthy cause, and added that it was gratifying to have such a splendid group of people working and giving an endless amount of time to the campaign.

The receipts last year amounted to about $670 and the year before $900. This year with many more cases to take care of the community was asked to double its contribution and this it has done.

High School Parents' Organization to Hear Dr. Carl Christensen

The second meeting of the Antioch High school social organization will be held at 8 p. m. Tuesday, Feb. 7, at the high school with Carl Christensen M. D. of Evanston as the speaker.

A question and answer session will follow the address.

The topic ties in with the organization's chosen theme, "Family Relations."

Hans Von Holwede and his music department will present several musical numbers.

A social hour with refreshments will follow. Mrs. Gordon Martin is chairman of this committee and the Lake Villa and Loon lake parents will donate and assist.

Officers are urging all parents, teachers and friends to hear this speaker and enjoy the program.

Truck Driver Injured in Accident on Highway 59

John Bodeman, 49, driving a truck for the Chesney farm near Lake Villa, suffered a badly lacerated thumb when his truck skidded on the icy pavement of Rte. 59, south of the 19th Hole Saturday night and crashed into an embankment.

Bodeman's left hand was caught in the door as it struck the high embankment at the side of the road after the truck had turned around twice.

The Antioch Rescue squad gave first aid and then took him to a doctor to have the wound dressed.

Policy of Disruption

The soft coal industry is a perfect example of industrial chaos. No one knows, from one week to the next, whether all of the mines will work, whether some of the mines will work, whether none of the mines will work, or if the miners will follow a three-day week, a five-day week, or a no-day week.

This sort of disruption has been John L. Lewis' fixed policy. It is, apparently, his method of demonstrating that he is coal's czar.

Recently, a large number of soft coal companies have filed petitions with the National Labor Relations Board, charging Mr. Lewis with unfair practices, coercion, and refusal to bargain in good faith.

The mine operators have repeatedly offered to sign a contract continuing the wage rates established in 1948, which are the highest in major industry. They are willing to continue the same hours, and to provide other benefits, including a sound pension, welfare and group insurance plan. This is even a better contract than that of last year which union officials called the best ever negotiated. But Mr. Lewis will not agree—so consumers are deprived of coal, miners are deprived of work, and production costs in this hard-pressed industry are skyrocketing.

This ruthless use of monopoly power must be stopped, in the interest of every group in the country—including labor itself.

Body Builder

What is meat? The obvious answer is that it is a food which is particularly appetizing to the great majority of people.

But meat, according to scientific discoveries which have been made largely in the past 15 years, is more than that. It is a splendid builder of health and energy.

Proteins are now known to be the building blocks of the body. They renew the living cells in muscles, tissue and blood. The most valuable protein foods—which are meat, poultry, milk, eggs and fish—contain amino acids. There are 23 different amino acids of which ten are absolutely essential to human health. All ten of them are found in meat. Meat also contains many other dietically valuable elements—including the newly discovered vitamin B-12 that is found only in animal products.

For centuries people have eaten vast quantities of meat just because they liked it, not knowing its special virtues from the health standpoint. When Nature gave the human race its appetite for meat, she knew what she was doing! She made the most valuable of foods the most palatable.

On the economic side, meat constitutes a great industry, which provides agriculture with its largest single source of cash income. It is responsible for a sizeable section of our employment and purchasing power. It is a growing industry, and the experts forecast substantial increases in meat production and consumption during the coming years. All in all, it is a major asset to the nation.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Always striving to be helpful, I suggest as we go headlong into 1950 that every congressman—every mother's son of 'em—go on down to his ear specialist and find out just what it is that has been throwing him for a loop and off his equilibrium. Find out what is causing him to imagine that 500 folks making a big hullabaloo cuts more ice than 10,000 quiet folks who elect their man and then expect him to be as astute enough and smart enough not to be carried off his feet by the noise of the few looking for loot.

These congress fellers, when they are home, know that to get a nest egg in the bank—and have your own earned security—that it takes thrift. Even in the schoolhouse—first grade—they know that a nickel a week in the piggy bank puts the young goslings in a fancy spot when vacation time comes and ice cream cones are extra tasty.

So you gents there on that mystic Potomac where some are inclined to the fancy that dinero grows on shrubs and bushes, I warn you. My crystal ball tells what is brewing. Listen. The 10,000 quiet citizens back home pack a haymaker and could fool you on next election day. They are not as sound asleep as you might think.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

MEGAREON WINTER TOUR MADE IN WAUKEGAN

Thirty Megaron members of the Lake County Home Bureau met at the court house in Waukegan, Monday and took a guided tour through that building and listened in on a court case.

At noon, the group enjoyed dinner at the Karcher hotel, after which they heard Mrs. Bess Dunn, a long employed member of the Court House, tell of the early history of Waukegan.

The members spent the afternoon at the Motor Products Corporation at North Chicago, where Miss Ruth Shields, the Deep Freeze plant's home economist, gave a demonstration. A tour was then conducted through the plant and a tea was given the Megaron members by the plant.

A very profitable day was spent by all and much valuable information was gained. Mrs. Myrus Nelson, the Megaron program chairman, is to be complimented on the enjoyable day she planned for the group.

Antioch Mink Raiser Tells Ranchers to Sell Raw Mutation Pelts

Industry is Now Under State
Agriculture Department,
Not Conservation

The Illinois State Mink Breeders Association of which Richard H. Champlin east of the village is president, held its meeting last evening at Fritz's lodge near Crystal Lake.

Prof. Richard Shackelford, professor of genetics at the University of Wisconsin spoke on "General Breeding."

The date and place of the annual meeting has not been determined, Champlin said. A meeting of mink raisers is scheduled for Feb. 25, 26, and 27 in Chicago and consideration has been given to holding the annual meeting at Crystal Lake then. Champlin and others recently returned from New York where they attended the mink market and he recommended to the state association that hereafter mutation mink be sold not dressed.

Boycott Took Place

Buyers formed an association this year in boycotting the sale of dressed mutation mink and it was only after the ranchmen at the market agreed not to dress their mink in the future that a compromise was established.

Champlin said that he and others hesitated to agree to the request until they had made sure that they could handle the mutation mink raw, but this they have since learned they can do.

The New York market was from 10 to 15 per cent higher this year than last, and about 40 per cent of the local crop was sold. There will be a sale of general dark pelts on Feb. 16, and of select in May.

Short Crop This Year

"The traders in the east didn't take the report seriously that we were having a crop shortage due to hot weather last year and they are going to come up short this year," said President Champlin.

Hot weather during whelping time last year caused mother mink to abandon their young with the result that many died. This was reported, but the eastern buyer thought it just sales talk without foundation.

Mutation mink are getting much attention in the market nowadays, and President Champlin says he is expecting much help in research from Dr. Robert Graham of the State College of Veterinarians.

Mink breeding no longer is under the department of Conservation in Illinois but is now under the department of Agriculture, Richard H. Champlin, president of the Illinois Mink Breeders association said yesterday.

Ranks With Cattle Raisers

A bill that became a law with the signature of Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson last June has placed the industry along side cattle and hog raising and divorced it from game raising projects such as pheasants and quail.

The Illinois Mink Breeders association aided by Rep. Nick Keller and Rep. Tom Bolger, and others in getting the transfer did not get all that it asked. It asked the removal of the license fee, and is still working toward that end by having the fee transferred to the department of agriculture for use in research.

Mink raising in Lake county is now big business and it is probable that the income from mink is more than from hogs.

Woman's Club Donates Chairs to Scout Home

The Woman's club of Antioch recently donated 50 new folding chairs to the Scout Home.

Other donors since the last published list are Joseph Decker, Keulman Brothers, C. E. Gaffey and the Parent-Teachers association of the grade school.

Camouflage

Architectural faults can be hidden with hard-to-trace patterns. The trick calls for a paper that is fairly bold and a pattern that is irregular.

As recently as half a century ago, paint was mixed by druggists to customers' specifications.

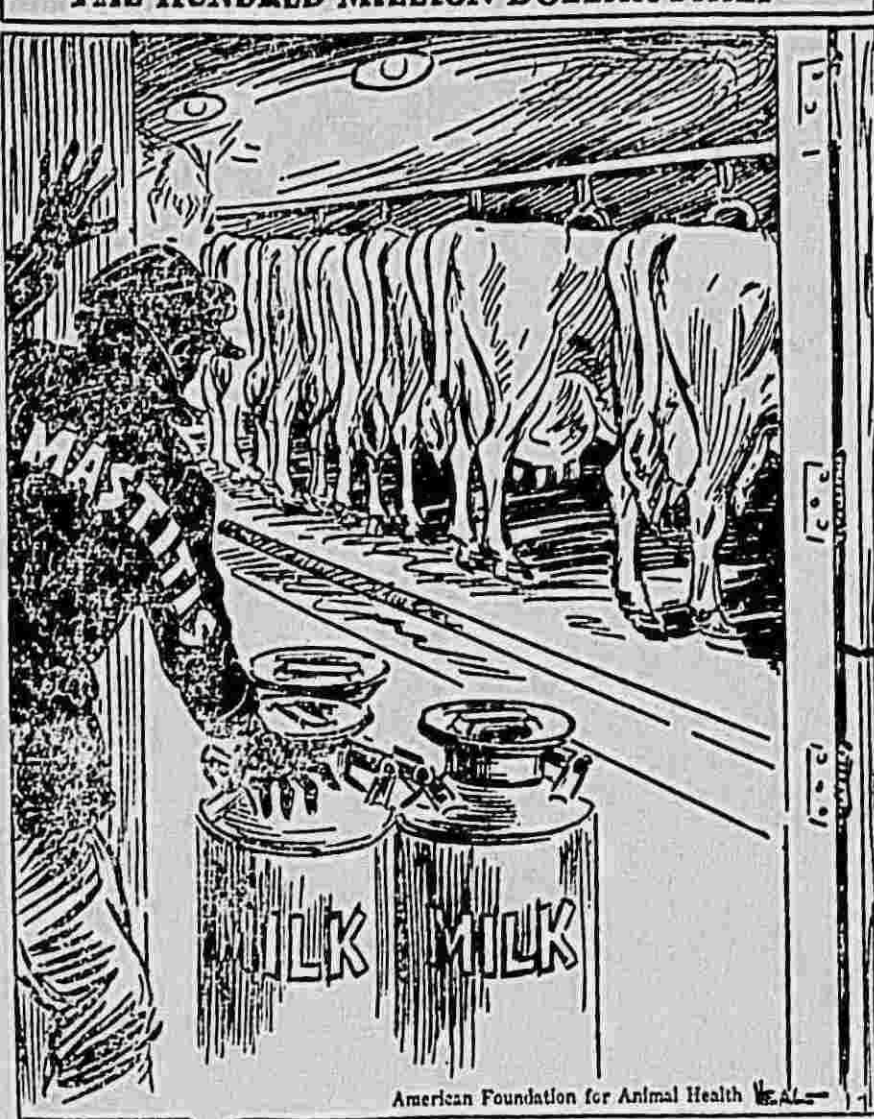

Stalactite and Stalagmite

Wondering how to remember the difference between a stalactite and a stalagmite? Stalactites hang from the cave ceiling, are spelled with the letter "c" for ceiling, and have to be "lite" to keep from falling. Stalagmites grow upward from the cave floor, are spelled with a "g" for ground, and "mite" someday reach the ceiling.

New Type Drop Cloths

The use of drop cloths is absolutely necessary for the protection of floors and furniture when a room is being painted. In addition to the familiar fabric drop cloths, new types are available which are made of special paper material which is impregnated with a wax or resin. They are dust and liquid proof and it's easy to dispose of them.

WILMOT

A request for a special meeting of the Wilmot high school district was held Wednesday evening by the school board. The board received the request last week from 24 residents in the district. The purpose of the meeting was to vote upon building a $350,000 addition to the present school at Wilmot. The school board Wednesday night also declined to grant a petition from the Central high school association to call a special election to determine the location of the school. The association asked the school board to call an election to vote on building a new school at Hwy. 50 and County Trunk F, or keeping the school in Wilmot.

Joseph F. Dassing, Twin Lakes, a school board's attorney, ruled that the association's petition was not binding to the board. The request for the special meeting was held to be mandatory to the clerk of the board, Alfred Oetting, Glen Pacey, president, said the school board did not have power to call a special election within the district, but it could hold a special meeting if the legal number of residents demanded one. Oetting said he was checking with authorities in Madison to determine procedure in calling the meeting. He said the law requires the clerk to personally notify 75 per cent of the voters in the district unless there is a newspaper published within the district.

Oetting said he wants to determine if the Twin Lakes Reporter, the only newspaper published in the district, will be acceptable to the state for carrying notices of the meeting. Members of the Central high school association attended the board meeting Wednesday night to hear the verdict on their petition. They were dissatisfied with the decision of the school board, according to Peter DiCello, president of the group. The association said it has considered taking court action against the school board in an attempt to force the board to call an election.

Wilmot high school won over Union Grove Thursday evening, 49-35, in the St. Bonaventure gymnasium at Sturtevant to continue leadership in the tight title race in the southeastern Wisconsin conference. Wilmot will play a postponed non-conference game with Walworth Tuesday at home. The visitors are undefeated pacemakers in the Southern Regional circuit. On Friday, East Troy will invade Wilmot. The Troy club is one game behind Wilmot. Then will follow Rochester and Mukwonago. The latter reversed Wilmot for the latter's only league loss at Mukwonago.

Mr. Douglas Clayton was taken by ambulance to the Kenoza hospital Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Zarnstorff, of Lake Geneva, were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zarnstorff, Sr.

Reinhold Faber, of Silver Lake, spent Tuesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ganzlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Habendadt, of Camp Lake Oaks spent Thursday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ganzlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zarnstorff, Sr., were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Zarnstorff, of Oak Knoll.

Frank and Richard, June Cooper, in honor of Ronald Miller's birthday anniversary.

SHORT STORY

Flash Of Brilliance

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

CONSIDERING the fact that the necklace was valued at $50,000 and it was not insured, Mrs. Holbrook should have been upset. The fact that she wasn't astonished even her husband, for her husband knew her for an emotional, excitable person.

"But, good lord, Bess! You might at least act concerned. I paid 50 grand for that rope. Maybe you think I'm made of money."

"That," said Mrs. Holbrook, "is the point."

"Point? What point?" Mr. Holbrook was becoming irritated.

"I mean," said Bess, "that I'm not the empty-headed, irresponsible person you think me. The diamond necklace wasn't stolen. I left it back in New York—in a safety deposit box."

"You what?"

"The jewels that were stolen were imitations. I wouldn't dream of wearing the originals without having them insured."

Mr. Holbrook's mouth fell open. "So you see," said Bess. It isn't as bad as it seems."

Rita Fenway, one of the guests, suddenly said, "But it doesn't alter the fact that there's a thief aboard. And that means we're all in danger of being robbed. And the cruise won't be over for another week."

"Of course," Mrs. Holbrook said. "And nothing could be more satisfactory. My dears, consider that we are to be on the high seas for a week. The criminal, whoever he is, will have to remain with us during that length of time. A week, my dears, will give our clever and efficient captain ample opportunity to apprehend the thief."

An hour after Mrs. Holbrook had demonstrated her hidden genius she excused herself from a group in the main lounge and unobtrusively descended to her cabin. After a moment she rang for the captain.

"Captain Talbert, my husband has undoubtedly told you about the theft and instructed you to apprehend the thief."

"Yes, ma'm. I have two of the crew making a search now."

"Instruct them to desist. It will not be necessary."

"But, Mrs. Holbrook, your husband said—"

"Captain Talbert, my husband has undoubtedly told you about the theft and instructed you to apprehend the thief."

"Never mind what my husband said. The necklace has been returned." She nodded toward a box on her dressing table.

"Returned? The imitations, you mean?"

"No. The real ones. Captain Talbert, I'm going to take you into my confidence. The story I told about the necklace being imitation was false. I've never worn false jewelry and I never shall. I merely told that story so that the thief would think his loot valueless."

CAPTAIN TALBERT'S face lighted. "And then you spoke about apprehending the criminal by searching for the imitations so that the thief would return—"

"Exactly. The imitations weren't worth keeping, and in order to dispel the possibility of having them found in his possession he decided to return them. In doing so he unintentionally returned the originals—and spared me the unpleasantness of facing my husband—alone."

Captain Talbert nodded understandingly. He knew what the word "alone" meant. He regarded Mrs. Holbrook with frank admiration. "Mrs. Holbrook, allow me to congratulate you, and please understand that you will have my fullest co-operation. After a reasonable length of time I'll announce that we have been unsuccessful in our search."

A moment later Captain Talbert went out. Left alone, Mrs. Holbrook sat down before her mirror. It had been a strain. A great strain. She sighed wearily. It was such a relief to feel that once more she could return to the role of the irresponsible spouse that her husband understood and expected.

Dying Felon Chooses To Remain in Prison After Term Expires

JOLIET, ILL.—A sick, old convict, whose sentence has ended, has decided to stay in prison. He will remain at Joliet penitentiary as a "guest of the state" because he is homeless, friendless and dying.

Alex Rhode, 73, has not known much else but prisons. He has passed most of the last 42 years in some penal institution. He had been serving a 10-year sentence for larceny, had saved up $600 and was looking forward eagerly to his release from Joliet.

But for 90 days he had been in the prison hospital, complaining of stomach pains and nausea. He wanted to get an outside hospital but all were full. Then the warden told him he could stay on at Joliet, coming and going as he pleased, whenever the doctor said he was able.

Rhode still wanted to get into an outside hospital.

The prison doctor asked him where he'd go if he were released that minute. Rhode said he might stay on a bus until he got to California.

Then the prison doctor said: "We have not told you this before, Alex, but you have an inoperable cancer. You must have regular blood counts and transfusions. You could never stand the trip."

Rhode paled, then accepted a pack of cigarettes from an inmate nurse.

"There's no one to care for you outside," the doctor reminded him. "Here, these inmate nurses will treat you like their own father."

"That's right, Dad," one of them smiled.

Rhode was silent, took a long look out the prison window.

"I guess I'd better stay," was all he said.

Paris' 'New Look' for Men Embodies Prune-Color Coat

PARIS.—There's a "new look" for men which has been unveiled here. It includes plunging purple neckline and all.

It's all because tailor Gaston Waltener believes man today is in a state of "vestimentary inferiority." Then Waltener showed an audience what he would do about it.

Four young men from the conservatory of dramatic arts—there were no male fashion models who would hold still—turned and walked about to show such confidence-boosting ensembles as:

A black ski outfit, with red paisley scarf and green laced boots.

Finger-length coats. Alligator skin shoes with inch-high crepe soles.

A purplish, prune-colored dinner jacket with a "plunging neckline"—plunging to the middle of the stomach.

Most poisonous comment came from a British reporter: "If I'd known this was coming up, I'd have worn my dungarees."

Skipper and Steelmaker

From shipbuilding and sailing on the Great Lakes, Capt. E. B. Ward turned to iron and steelmaking. A pioneer in the iron industries of Detroit and Chicago, he made the first commercial bessemer steel in America at Wyandotte, Mich.

"Captain Talbert, my husband has undoubtedly told you about the theft and instructed you to apprehend the thief."

"Never mind what my husband said. The necklace has been returned." She nodded toward a box on her dressing table.

Magazine Would Rip 'Jazz' Out Of Word Usage

MILWAUKEE, WIS. — The word "jazz," long an honored word in a wide circle of Americans, a word which became a synonym for an era in American manners and mores, will disappear from the language if a magazine called Downbeat has its way.

A horrid word to certain refined ears, the word "jazz" may be stricken from the language, root and branch and, likewise, root and toot.

The magazine hereinbefore referred to has announced a prize of $1,000 for the best word to replace "jazz." The second prize will be a full night's free service of the Charlie Barnet band, and third will be the same privilege with the King Cole trio.

Some Suggestions

A palpitating jazzman might imagine some of the delightful suggestions that are snowing down on the editors of Downbeat. What would they say to such examples as "jumpmusic," or "hotarmony," or "ticklear," or "syncotune," or "dizart," or "hopera?" Perhaps any of these might add something worthwhile to our vocabulary.

It is almost as difficult to find where "jazz" came from as to figure where, if anywhere, it is going. For one thing, "jazz" is Creole for "hurry up." Another suggestion is that "jazz" is an all African term for sing and jump, and "Jazzbo" Brown used to give out with a spirited brand of music that had the customers clamoring for "Jazzbo," and "Jazz."

Charlie (Chaz) Washington, a Vicksburg drummer, had the same exhilarating effect upon his audiences.

"Jaser" is a French word for "chatter" or "gossip."

But however jazz came into the language, some 50 or 60 years ago, it certainly has held on. When Paul Whiteman was the king of the craft he called his book "Jazz" and the fanciful French fancier of the art, Hugues Panassie, issues learned tomes on "le jazz hot."

No Easy Chore

The scholars of Downbeat will discover that it is no easy chore to toss out a popular locution. They will dutifully award their prizes for jazz replacement and will be mortified to hear the irreverent usage of the word "jazz" from then on indefinitely, just the same.

When the prohibition era ended, for example, laws were passed to ban the use of the word "saloon." It was felt that "tavern" had a more wholesome, ethical sound. But there are the unregenerate souls who still talk about "going over to the corner saloon." Actors and entertainers in the cabaret circuits speak of themselves as "working in the saloons."

The eminent Billy Rose describes himself as being in the saloon business and night club chronicles call themselves "saloon editors." Warrants are expected for all of them hourly. There are elements of the brewing industry that find the word "bartender" distasteful. They have suggested that term "retail salesman" be substituted, and some of the men at the spigot prefer to be called "purveyors," but the irreverent customers seem to think that all such ideas are merely jests—good clean gags.

GI's Shudder as 21 WAGs Turn Out for Target Shoot

FRANKFURT, GERMANY. — It was a rough day for the GI's here as one of what they regarded as the biggest snafu's in Pentagon history got underway.

A directive stating that the women's army corps (WAC) shall remain unarmed was allowed to lapse. On that day, 21 determined members of the Frankfurt detachment of WAC's went out on the range for the first time.

They meant business. Garbed in baggy fatigue uniforms, hair carelessly squashed under steel helmets, they marched gallantly to the Vilberg small-arms range, their .30 caliber carbines carried at the ready.

That was at 8 a. m. A dense fog hung over the field. The girls couldn't even see the targets. But let Range Sergeant McKee tell it: "This fog may last all day. Why don't you come back some other time—maybe next summer?" he said.

"We'll wait," snapped Capt. Ethel Martin of Hooperstown, Ill., a forceful character if McKee ever saw one.

The fog lifted at 10 a. m. McKee reluctantly started to issue ammunition.

"These silly things won't go into the magazine," complained Pfc. Viola Schweder, of Milwaukee.

With exaggerated patience McKee took the cartridges from her and inserted them properly, the while explaining: "You have to put them in front ways. Otherwise you might shoot yourself."

The GI target pullers ducked into the pits like scared rabbits.

TWO-WAY STRETCH

that's strictly inside stuff!

Look! Whip-around rear windows and top-side styling in the Riviera manner

Your Key to Greater Value

Tune in HENRY J. TAYLOR, ABC Network, every Monday evening.

HERE'S THE NEW 1950 BUICK SUPER 126, companion body-type to the equally new ROADMASTER 130. Both are shorter than last year's 4-door Sedans—yet 4 inches longer in wheelbase. In both, the difference is used to give you real stretch-out room in the rear seat.

What the boys did here really calls for some medals.

We gave them the job of coming up with something that was bigger inside—for room and comfort—longer in wheelbase—always important to good riding qualities—yet unbulky and easy-handling in over-all dimensions.

Just look how well this tidy number meets these "impossible" specifications!

Item one—rear-seat cushions are a full foot wider than last year's SUPERS and ROADMASTERS.

Item two—in every dimension—leg-room, head-room, hip-room, shoulder-room—this rear-seat compartment is bigger than previous models—and nearly four inches longer, fore and aft, than other 1950 Buick interiors.

Item three—wheelbases are the longest of our 1950 line. On the SUPER, it is 125½" instead of 121½"—on the ROADMASTER 130½" instead of 126¼".

Yet—and here's where the magic comes in—the whole car is shorter over-all. Actually less from bumper to bumper than previous Buicks in these series.

That means easier parking, easier tucking away in family garages, easier maneuvering in crowded traffic.

There are some other things too: An extra rear-quarter window not found in standard 4-door Sedans. A different upperstructure styling that makes this body-type stand out as something pretty special.

Even special names that let you say, "I drive a SUPER 126" or "Mine's a ROADMASTER 130," just by way of being different.

Yes, we think we hit on a happy idea in the "Longfellows," as they're coming to be known. They are not longer, on the outside, but there's a two-way stretch—in width and length—in the rear compartment.

You're going to like that—as you'll see by calling on your own Buick dealer. If he doesn't have one on hand, he can get it pretty promptly—and at a price and on a deal you'll have trouble matching, much less beating, anywhere else.

See him now, will you—about placing an order?

Features like these mean

LAKE VILLA

This coming Sunday begins a series of guest days in the preaching services which will bring to the sanctuary many different groups in the church and community to sit as a body and be honored by a special sermon, and other recognition. The first such group is the Woman's Society of Christian Service. They will be invited to sit in a special reserved section, and will be presented to the congregation as a group at an appropriate time in the service. One member will tell in about 60 seconds something of the membership and objectives of the group. A special sermon, of Biblical nature, will be delivered by the pastor on the subject, "Women's Faces". Obviously the subject lends itself to both Biblical exposition and the usual abundance of wholesome humor which flows regularly from Lake Villa's pulpit these days.

Everyone will want to be present to hear what is said about the women, even the men. It is hoped that the goal of 125 will be exceeded at this service. Other groups will be thus honored in the future such as the various departments of the Sunday school, the Royal Neighbors, Men's club, Halcyon and Firemen's club.

Rust Good For Something

Now science has found that even rust can be put to good use—as insulation in motors and generators. Using a new steam oxidation process, Westinghouse engineers have succeeded in giving steel a uniform coat of rust. This thin film insulates the steel and makes it resistant to moisture and burnout.

Cost of Brucellosis

Brucellosis reduces the herd owner's net income in cattle by decreasing the milk production to as much as 20 to 23 per cent in severely infected herds; by reducing the calf crop as much as 40 per cent; by terminating in sterility in some animals and by increasing the incidence of mastitis.

First Cog Railway

Mount Washington's cog railway was the world's first. Completed in 1869, it confounded the "experts" of the time who had said the job couldn't be done. Already there was a carriage, now motor, road extending to the summit. As early as 1899, a pioneering motorist made the first ascent.

Barbarians

The word "barbarian" often used today to express another person's bad manners, brutality, or lack of taste, originated in ancient Greece. The Greeks considered anyone who was not a Greek a barbarian, and, to the Romans, a barbarian was anyone who spoke neither Greek or Latin.

Our Atmosphere

Including the water vapor that it contains, the atmosphere of the earth weighs about 5,900,000,000,000,000 tons. If it were completely dry, the weight would be about 5,000,000,000,000,000 tons. Half of this total mass of air is below an altitude of 3.46 miles above sea level.

It doesn't pay to doctor your own INSURANCE

If you are not trained in the medical profession, it doesn't pay for you to diagnose your illness or to prescribe the medicine which you should take to make you well. Neither does it pay for you to doctor your own insurance. We have seen the results, bad results, of this so many times that we urge you not to do it even though we never handle a nickel's worth of your insurance business. This is altruistic advice for your own good and for the good of the insurance profession.

What Every Woman Knows

That she could make an awful hit on the stage if she ever tried.

That her husband can be "managed," or, if she hasn't one, that he will be when she does get him.

That all other women are at least ten years older than they look.

That men who are merely studying her figure are really trying to flirt with her.

That she'd make a perfect artist's model if her mind weren't far above that sort of thing.

That no traffic cop in the world is proof against the right sort of a smile, no matter what the speedometer says.

That tears are the universal solvent.

That her husband could run his business much more successfully if he'd consult her about the help he hires.

That, Maggie, the hired girl, slights the dusting and neglects the corners and puts something in the clothes when she washes and has butter and sugar coated about her person every time she leaves the house.

That the neighbors are talking about her.

That, while she's awfully fond of her husband, she could have done a great deal better if she'd looked around a little more thoroughly.

A Brief Sketch of Abraham Lincoln's Life

1831—Failed in business.

1832—Defeated for legislature.

1833—Failed in business again.

1835—Sweetheart died.

1836—Nervous breakdown.

1838—Defeated for elector.

1840—Defeated for land office.

1842—Defeated for congress.

1848—Defeated for senate.

1855—Defeated for vice president.

1860—Elected president of the United States.

Old Fashioned Favorite

Molasses is near the top of the list of iron-rich foods. Nutritionists recommend its use in low-cost diets when meat, liver, and eggs cannot be served too often. Its frequent use in the diet is an excellent safeguard against nutritional anemia.

Tasteful Treat

Use a pastry brush to smooth melted butter on slices of pineapple. Then broil the pineapple for a tasteful treat to go with the ham or other meats.

For the Cooks

Meat Leftovers

A good way to use those last precious bits of meat leftovers is to combine them with macaroni in a smooth cream sauce or canned mushroom soup. Top the casserole dish with buttered bread crumbs and bake in a moderate oven about 30 minutes.

Advice Department

A young college graduate asked a successful business leader for some good advice. "Tell me, sir, how can I make a good start in the great game of business?"

"3-11 your wrist watch and buy an alarm clock," the businessman offered curly.

Plan more work than you can do.

Then do it.

Blite off more than you can chew.

Then chew it.

Hitch your wagon to a star.

Keep your seat.

And there you are!

This Week's Quizzer

What president never saw Washington until he went there as president?

Answer to last week's quizzer. Did any president of the United States ever win all the states in an election time?

President James Monroe won all the states in his campaign for a second term. He also received all but one vote in the Electoral College. This one vote was cast against him so that it couldn't be said he had no opposition.

Republicans Certify Three The Republican senatorial committee has broken tradition by certifying three candidates for representative. Heretofore they have certified but two, awarding the Democrats one certain successful candidate. This year McHenry County is represented in the Republican primary by A. B. McConnell. Rep. Thomas Bolger, Democrat, who was unopposed in former years is again running, but has opposition in his own primary.

Rent Director Explains There is No Control on Newly Constructed Houses

J. Edwin Porter, rent director of Waukegan, Lake and McHenry Counties, stated today that one of the questions asked frequently at the rent office each week by architects, builders, contractors, lawyers, real estate brokers, landlords and tenants, and about which there is considerable misunderstanding, is whether newly constructed rental housing is under rent control. Many people state specifically that if it were not for rent control there would be more new houses and apartments constructed for rental purposes.

This theory is absolutely incorrect in every detail. The Housing and Rent Act of 1949 specifically sets forth the following:

"The term 'controlled housing accommodations' means housing accommodations in any defense area except that it does not include:

"Any housing accommodation the construction of which was completed on or after Feb. 1, 1947, or which are housing accommodations created by a change from a nonhousing to a housing use, on or after Feb. 1, 1947, or which are additional housing accommodations created by con-

Local Veterinarians to Attend State Meeting in Peoria Starting Feb. 1

Veterinary physicians from every part of Illinois will meet in Peoria beginning Wed., Feb. 1, for the sixtieth annual convention of the Illinois State Veterinary Medical Association.

Drs. G. W. Jensen and C. P. Tossy are local members of the Association.

Featured on the program will be diseases communicable between animals and human beings, which the veterinarians and the medical physicians are cooperating to reduce and finally wipe out in Illinois. These include erysipelas of farm animals, rabies, which reached new heights in Illinois in 1949 largely through lack of local preventive steps, bovine mastitis and bovine tuberculosis.

More than 500 persons are expected to attend the convention. The new anti-histamine drugs will be discussed by Dr. C. C. Pfeiffer, version on or after Feb. 1, 1947." That means that there is no rent control on new construction and implications to the contrary are absolutely incorrect, Porter concluded.

University of Illinois College of Medicine. Socialized medicine will be discussed by Dr. Walter Stevenson, Quincy, head of the Illinois Medical Society. Other speakers will include specialists from seven states outside Illinois, and Canada. Dr. R. M. Carter, Alexis, is president and Dr. C. L. Miller, Oak Park, president-elect.
